

NAATS HQ E-Mail Update

March 29, 2006

There will be more information coming out regarding the vote in the near future. We are in the process of updating the web site and will be posting important information and notices on the web site in the coming weeks. In addition, we will be sending mailings and visiting facilities to discuss topics of concern. I urge everyone to attend those meetings and to gather and disseminate as much information as possible. Not only information that we will be sending, but also information about Lockheed Martin's expected campaign in opposition to unionization of Flight Service. You are our eyes and ears!

IMPORTANT CAVEAT:

In the meantime, a word of caution. Please do not talk about NAATS or the upcoming election while in a duty status on the operations floor. Although Lockheed Martin is not permitted to discriminate against anyone for their activities or speech in support of NAATS, Lockheed is not paying us to engage in such activities. Rather, we are being paid to do our jobs as Flight Service Specialists and Lockheed can discipline us for not doing our jobs. Thus, while you are "on the clock" at your work stations, for your own protection, please do not engage in any activities in support of NAATS. Discussion about the upcoming election should take place on your own time, during breaks, at lunch, in the parking lot before or after work and, of course, anywhere and anytime off the facility premises.
